

Declaration of commitment to the Recommendation of the European Commission on the European Charter for Researchers and Code of Conduct for the Recruitment of Researchers

Bruno Kessler Foundation (FBK)

- having examined the European Commission Recommendation of March 11th, 2015, regarding the European Charter for Researchers and the Code of Conduct for the Recruitment of Researchers
- having been charged with keeping Trentino in the mainstream of European and international research, by attracting women, men and resources at the forefront of technological development and humanities studies,
- intending to contribute to the realization of an open and attractive European labour market for researchers

Welcomes and fully supports the Recommendation of the European Commission on the European Charter for Researchers and Code of Conduct for the Recruitment of Researchers. Through the decision made by the Governance, FBK recognizes the value of its principles and voluntarily commits itself to applying them.

Having endorsed the 40 principles of Charter and Code, with this letter FBK notifies you about the commitment to get involved into the process of implementing a Human Resources Strategy for Researchers (HRS4R).

In particular Bruno Kessler Foundation hereby declares a formal commitment to:

- promote the development of human resources throughout the whole career and acknowledge the value of geographic, interdisciplinary mobility as a way of strengthening scientific knowledge and enhance the researchers' professional development;
- request researchers to pursue the objectives enshrined in the Charter, by implementing them in their profession.

Trento, 18th of October 2016
